General Comments

Licensing staff arrived at the early learning and childcare home while the children were engaging in a morning activity consisting of playdough, cookie cutters, children's playdough scissors, a tortilla making, that the children used to flatten the dough, and then pressed the cookie cutters onto the flattened playdough. The children then served pretend food to the operator, licensing staff and the operator's daughter.

The operator recognized when the activity needed to change and asked the children if they wanted to do "gym time." The children were excited to sing along and perform the actions to "Danny-Go." Once "gym-time" was finished, the children got washed up and had morning snack.

The children and the operator of the licensed facility went to the local park and played on the swings and explored the properties of the snow. The children brought little toy cars with them and built a hill out of snow to run the cars down. When the children arrived back to the home, they ate their lunch and then went down for a nap.

The operator was very engaged with the children throughout the inspection. While walking back home one of the children was crying so the operator picked up the child and began to sing to them and the child stopped crying. The operator has a gentle compassionate demeanor with the children in her care.

Licensing staff recommends the licensed facility for renewal of license.
