General Comments

Monitoring Inspection:

Children and educators observed engaged in a variety of activities this afternoon including fine motor activities, dramatic play, building with a variety of building materials, and sensory opportunities. A sensory invitation was set-up with sand and hidden treasures for the children to search for.

Purposeful planning is evident through invitations and planning is documented on the planning sheet. QA Monitor discussed adding photos of the children within the environment. The children have been working on ongoing open-ended art projects - building bug traps/houses and a haunted house. Children used a variety of loose parts and art materials to create together.

Handwashing routines were observed during washroom routines, at arrival and before snack.

Trail mix and milk was served for snack.

Monthly fire drills are documented.

Daily attendance records are accurate and reflect all children present. Child-to-staff ratio was observed to be met during Monitoring Inspection.

New staff file (1) review was completed. The file was not on site or accessible to supply staff during inspection. Staff had to reach out to another site to have the file sent over for QA Monitor to review. Ensure supply staff files are kept on site or brought with them when covering a shift.
