General Comments

A Monitoring Inspection occurred on June 8, 2025.

Children were observed during outdoor free play. Educators shared that the children are currently very interested in a Dead Hedge Project, which involves preserving natural habitats for more-than-human species within the outdoor play area. Children are also engaged in outdoor clay and sewing projects, creating polymer clay storybooks inspired by Barbara Reid, and going on field trips to Ritchie Lake. Outdoor educators were observed playing an active role in children's activities, supporting their interests and extending learning opportunities.

The daily incident log is maintained, and evacuation procedures are posted in a prominent location. Life-threatening allergies are clearly posted. Parents and children are greeted with enthusiasm upon arrival, creating a welcoming and inclusive environment. Books that reflect the children's current interests have been selected and are available for use. The facility offers a varied supply of appropriate equipment, materials, books, and toys. Traffic areas, including outdoor walkways, are clean and free of clutter. Drinking water is accessible throughout the day.

Various forms of literacy are visible within the indoor environment. Educators provide meaningful opportunities to extend the curriculum outdoors and actively bring elements of the natural world into the classroom, supporting a holistic and integrated approach to learning.

A conversation occurred with the Administrators regarding the Literacy Enrichment Program. This program is designed for children whose parents have enrolled them and takes place outside of the regular programming. Children participating in the program temporarily leave the daily activities and rejoin the group once their individual sessions are complete.
