General Comments QAM arrived in the afternoon and observed both classrooms engaged in outdoor play. A few children remained indoors for nap time and were supervised by an educator. Children were observed playing with toy animals and playhouses, using the swings, and going down the slide. Other outdoor materials and equipment available included tires for jumping, balance bikes, trucks, and blocks. QAM observed that the climbing dome was positioned less than six feet from the fenced area, which presented a potential safety concern if a child were to fall. QAM advised that children not use the climbing dome until the placement of the equipment or fencing was addressed. Children's current interests include exploring nature, going for walks, and looking for mushrooms and leaves. Throughout the summer, children participated in community outings, including walking to a local pizza restaurant, visiting different parks, and going to the splash pad.
